Will Lay First Brick

On South Pryor St.

Early Tuesday Morning

Mayor Woodward and members of general council have been invited to be present, since this ends a fight that has been waged in general council for nearly two years and which was finally won by the general council in overriding the mayor's veto of the ordinance providing for the paving of the street.

Councilman C. D. Knight and Alderman C. H. Keller, the two second ward members in general council, will be on hand this morning with many other residents. Shelby Smith, agent for the concrete finishing brick, will also be present.

The concrete base for the pavement has been laid between the street and the curb on one side of the street and one side of the street will be completed before work is begun on the other side, so that traffic will not be stopped.

URIC ACID POISONS

THE WHOLE BODY

It Should Be Dissolved and

Flushed From the System

Jacobs' Liver Salt is a gentle but effective tonic stimulant to liver and bowels which dissolves and eliminates Uric Acid and other poisons at the same time it flushes and physically cleanses the system.

Permeation of meat and other heavy foods produces two things: Waste that clogs and poisons the system, and gradually breaks down the vital organs so that they fail in their function.

By removing both the waste matter and Jacobs' Liver Salt prevents disease of the vital organs, giving them opportunity to perform their functions normal and to keep the body vigorous and healthy.

Calomel habitually keeps often to the sorrow, the effect of this drastic drug which always leaves its tracks and scars, like the dynamite blast in the mountain of rock.

Jacobs' Liver Salt does the work gently but quickly and effectively, with no injurious after-effects. Get it at grocer and at druggists generally. (Adv.)

Upon returning to Atlanta Mrs. and Mr. Dwyer will take up their residence at the Imperial hotel after returning to Detroit.

Changes Are Favored

In Recorder's Court

By George Johnson

Justice George C. Johnson is seeking to make some very important changes in the recorder's court.

It is his wish that four sessions of the court be held daily, two morning sessions and two afternoon sessions, so that the negroes and whites can be tried separately. He believes that the white and negro prisoners should be separated when in the court.

He will ask the finance committee to consider his plan for the remodeling of the courtroom. He has placed up a plan for the remodeling of the courtroom to provide desks and seats for the judges and jury.

In agreement with the Judge Logan, he has secured the publication of the court's decisions. The publication of the court's decisions will do as much good for the suppression of crime as the best of judges and juries.

DELIGHTS THE WHOLE FAMILY

Here are some actual facts about ice cream that you should know. These are statements based on the results of careful and scientific investigations.

One quart of Jacobs' Ice Cream has the same food value as a whole pound and a half of round steak—the same nutriment as a whole gallon of oysters—the same food value as 4 pounds of potatoes or 11 pounds of cabbage.

Just think how much better—how much more wholesome and enjoyable it is for children to eat "all the ice cream they want" than to eat heavy, messy, hard-to-digest pies and pastries? Don't deny them—give them all the ice cream they want.

At the very lowest cost Jacobs' Ice Cream gives you the highest food value known. Its proteins and casiens are tissue builders, while the sugar and cream furnish heat and energy—LIFE.

Jacobs' Ice Cream is made in the most sanitary kitchens. Every hygienic precaution is taken to protect its absolute purity and cleanliness from contamination.

Jacobs' Ice Cream is easy to digest—even the delicate stomachs of babies and invalids will digest and assimilate it without effort, and the whole system becomes strengthened by its nutritious qualities. Your family physician will confirm this.

can be had: Hosiery Newsstands, Broad-and Twenty-ninth street.

DON'T ENDANGER SCHOOLS.

Convinced as we are that the city council is unanimous in its desire to make, as speedily as possible, the improvements that are now essentially imperative in Atlanta's school system, we feel that its attention need be and usually called to the danger which lies in any attempt to overload the proposed city bond issue with extraneous projects which might bring fatal result to the most urgent necessity that now confronts Atlanta.

The Constitution does not mean to say or imply that other projects of permanent improvement for which bonds have been suggested are lacking in worth or merit.

On the contrary, most of those which have been mentioned are good, and in due time they will all be provided for. But it is timely and appropriate to point out that a bond issue embodying a multiplicity of projects endangers each and every one of them, including the vital and important objects which are the determining factors in asking its authorization at the hands of the voters.

There are only two projects which should go into the proposed bond issue now under discussion—Atlanta's schools and Atlanta's hospital. In education and health there is strong appeal. Second only to the unfortunate condition of Atlanta's school system are the needs of the Grady hospital.
Overcrowded, lacking in facilities for treatment and even for the actual relief of suffering, the city hospital has been for many months in a pitiable plight through its actual inability to render the service demanded of it. This simple combination of two suffering Atlanta institutions will make a bond issue that will go through without a fight.

When we consider the crisis confronting Atlanta through the deplorable condition of its public school system, it is readily understood why no one and, we believe, least of all the city council, would be willing to take any chance whatever of defeat. The facts as to the school have been recited time and again; they are well known through reports, official and semi-official.

The report, published elsewhere today, of the special committee from the Atlanta Federation of Trades, which made an exhaustive investigation of the city school system about the same time with the Atlanta School Improvement Association, and just preceding the official inquiry of the committee from council, calls attention to the insanitary, inadequate and unsafe school buildings found in every section of the city, and expresses regret that every Atlanta taxpayer could not have seen them just as they did.
Convinced that extraordinary steps are necessary in this crisis, the committee recommends that the federation endorse a bond issue "large enough to place the schools of Atlanta on an equal and level basis."

Not only the federation and the other organizations which likewise possess firsthand knowledge, but the general public as well, recognizes the fact that the school system has reached its lowest ebb, and that remedy must be applied without delay. For that reason they are ready to go to any necessary extent to restore the city school system to its one-time standard.

We feel, in this emergency, that council will readily recognize the importance of steering clear of entangling complications, and proceed as quickly as possible to submit this bond issue upon a basis which will insure its practically unanimous endorsement at the hands of Atlanta's voters.

WORKERS FOR GEORGIA.

The almost limitless opportunities for agricultural settlement of the right sort in Georgia lend especial interest to the work of the Southern Settlement and Development Organization in Virginia and Maryland, and in the thought that the first and best movement for the betterment of the South whose activities are to be extended to such other southern states as desire to take advantage of them.

The Constitution has already, upon several occasions, called attention to the work which this organization is doing and suggested that it would be advantageous for Georgia to perfect an organization under its auspices. It should be borne in mind always that it is not a money-making concern; that it is organized purely for development along agricultural lines through bringing in the highest type of agricultural workers, and that it proceeds upon the idea that the material assistance is due from the railroad contribution to the states of the south in the production of this constructive work.

Already some investigation has been made as to conditions in Georgia by R. M.
Pindell, Jr., assistant director of colonization following through the Southern Settlement and Development Organization. The Constitution which is published today, and in which he points out the possibilities of such agricultural colonization and settlement as would promote the best interests of the state.

Mr. Pindell says the problem of the middle western or northwestern farmer is, in a large measure, to deal chiefly with this sort usually involve an individual family, or a few families from a particular section, desirous of finding a satisfactory southern home within the same general neighborhood, and many of them are looking in this direction.

The organization is anxious to deal chiefly with these classes of industrial workers of northern Europe or other foreign origin, who have come to this country and settled in and around the industrial centers, and who do not know how to find their way to the land. These are families which have already become largely Americanized, but who, in respect to the well-known principle of human nature, enjoy and must have association of their own nationality.

Then, this is a class of settlers who would give themselves to diversified agriculture rather than to cotton, of which they know practically nothing. They do know food crops, and if there their advantage is in the fact that they will question Georgia's need in this direction.

We believe Georgia land owners will be glad to make those concessions suggested in Mr. Pindell's letter, as to extended time for payment, such as would enable colonists of this class to take advantage of the opportunities offered in Georgia soil and Georgia climate.

It would be a splendid step for Georgia to take hold of the opportunity offered through co-operation with the Southern Settlement and Development Organization. It involves simply formation of a local company upon a basis which makes it the company with the right of determination as to the character and class of settlers invited to locate themselves upon lands within this state.

This activity is one which, it would seem, comes directly within the scope of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, and the Independent Organization would probably be necessary, that body is well qualified to direct it along lines which would prove of greatest advantage to the state.

A SOCIAL BREAD PROBLEM.

Aside from the tragedy of the Belgian bread line, there are other features to the bread problem in the war-affected countries —notably in Germany, where it sometimes results in curious complications, due, it is said, to the introduction of bread tickets in all communities.

The New York Times says that the right time to deal with bread sales to persons equipped with these non-transferable tickets has given rise to considerable embarrassment on the part of housewives entertaining unexpected guests.

The Hamburger Nachrichten in a recent issue has reported that a woman housewife who was expecting a woman guest for a visit of five days and who could obtain her daily bread by exchanging her housewife's hospitality, could manage somehow if she was to stay but two days. The woman pointed out, but five days is a very serious matter, for she would have to give her five days supply of bread along with thereby prove really wasteful, it would make her appear inhospitable if I were to tell her practically, 'Provide your own provisions.'

It becomes more of a problem, "since bread tickets issued by one community are not good for bread in another feature has resulted in an appeal to the police author-ties whose decision was that guests on an extended visit, by applying at the police station, "may supply themselves with bread tickets limited to the duration of their stay."

It is not unusual for a prospective visitor to write ahead: "Have arranged for my bread supply, and will be on the ground at the time, to relieve the anxiety of the household by announcing: 'I've brought my bread!'"

Anyway, Italy is doing her best to fulfill the prediction that the war would bring in May.

Still, before the Austrians take Venice there will be more than one Bridge of Sighs to cross.

However, idol-shattering England is willing to admit that "Kitchener was a soldier."

Also, let other days be same—as well as July 4.

Opportunity For Agricultural Development in Colonization

Editor Constitution: I have noted with much interest the editorial comment contained in a recent issue of The Atlanta Constitution upon the subject of agricultural settlement of the right sort in Georgia.
Southern Settlement and Development Organization in Virginia and Maryland, and in the thought that the first and best movement for the betterment of the South
whose activities are to be extended to such
other southern states as desire to take advantage of them.

I do this for two reasons—first, because, as a matter of fact, we have for some little time been going over the field in Georgia with a view to developing some activities along the line of small farm settlements, and, second, because I think there is some misapprehension as to some of the things that ought to be done to bring about a successful settlement in the south.

With reference to the first reason above mentioned, I would prefer not to go further at this time than to state that we are meeting with progress in the directions I have mentioned. With reference to the second reason, however, much can be said, and I shall address myself briefly thereto.

The common belief seems to be that the only obstacle in the way of a rapid, and at the same time substantial settlement in the south, lies in the difficulty of finding property qualified for settlement. It is true that on these southern lands, I think this is an error. On the contrary I would say that the eyes of the colonists are turned toward the eastward. However, the organization which I represent has been made an attempt to produce a group of people who appear to have the experience and qualifications which indicate a successful agricultural future, it has had no difficulty whatever in securing a group, and, what is more, these groups are of sufficient size to justify a careful discrimination in the land membership and still leave them large enough to form a community, which, after all, is the thing to be desired.

The real problem, anomalous as it may seem, is the lack of available land. It is the thing to be desired. It is true that this difficulty is lessening, but it has been a real hindrance to the progress of the working out of the colony or community plan of settlement.

It is true that the middle western farmer is not a settler, but a settler, and the middle western farmer, who has been accustomed to a quarter-section of land in his native land, and who has been accustomed to a new country, and the community or colony plan of settlement, at least in its inception, does not especially appeal to him. He has been coming to the south in increasing numbers in the last few years, and will continue to come. With respect to him, all that is needed is a piece of land, and he will take offered by the southern land, who will deal through the real estate man, who is in a better position to serve him than anyone else, and who is generally so situated that he can find the prospect the exact kind of a location he is seeking.

Investigation discloses, however, that there is another and larger class of people equally desirable, especially in view of the need for more intensive agriculture. I refer to the class of people, mostly of north European origin, who come to the south under the stress of economic pressure, and who have collected around or near the large industrial plants in the north, and who are in need of a new home, and who are in need of a new land. These people have saved a few hundred dollars, which they are willing to invest in a new home, and they are in need of a nominal amount in the beginning and the remaining payments must be spread over a number of years. They ask credit, and it is true, but no more credit than we southern people have been accustomed to giving to our tenants for many years. Indeed, not many of our tenants have been able to pay this essential difference. These people want permanent in their new location, and that circumstance can be brought about through an agreement which will provide for the actual purchase of the land when certain

It is true that the middle western farmer
western farmer, who has been accustomed to
a quarter-section of land in his native land, and who has been accustomed to a
new country, and the community or colony
plan of settlement, at least in its inception,
does not especially appeal to him. He has been coming to the south in increasing numbers in the last few years, and will continue
needed is a piece of land, and he will

a location he is seeking.

CHAPTER HOUSES DAMAGED BY WIND

College Students Have Narrow Escapes When Chimneys Crush Roofs of Kappa Sigma Fraternity Home.

Evidently too much study is objectionable to the elements on a hot afternoon for the high wind accompanying the welcome shower Wednesday night destroyed the Kappa Sigma and Chi Phi fraternity houses and drove many Tech Students to the streets.

When the squall swooped down upon the Chi Phi house two students, A. D. Teague and Henry Collins, were nearly injured by falling bricks. Teague, who was sound asleep in his room on the second floor, was awakened by the crash of the chimney on the roof directly overhead. "I jumped up quickly at the unusual sound," he said, "thinking that some one was being persecuted by the other boys. Just as I reached the door the entire chimney fell through the roof and ceiling covering the floor with brick, mortar and plaster."

Have Narrow Escapes.

Henry Collins, who was lying on a large lounge on the back porch studying, also narrowly escaped. When he returned from the cellar he found the porch occupied with the debris of another chimney. Further in the house, where the wind was blowing, a large lamp was overturned, and the flames were nearly extinguished. The wind was blowing from the north, and the debris was scattered all over the place.

The Kappa Sigma house, 314 Williams street, fared better. When the squall came, the students were in the hall. The wind was blowing from the north, and the debris was scattered all over the place.

Crackers Start Road Trip With Win Over Lookouts; Bill Rumler Hits Homer

Detail Game.
Dick Jemison will detail today's game between the Crackers and the Lookouts at his matinee parlors on the stadium. All other games by innings. Game starts at 2:45 o'clock.

By W. G. Foster.
Chattanooga, Tenn., May 26.—(Special.)—Playing more wide-awake baseball than their opponents and giving two pitchers sensational support in the pinches, the Crackers won a nice and tuck game from the Lookouts today by 2 to 4.

Kelly and Wagner, who started for the respective teams, were hampered mercifully. Allen and Harding, who were out on Kitchens' lone double, to left and Harding's safety to center.

The Crackers won out on the seventh on a peculiar play. Kelly punched a pop fly back of third. Three men chased it, but it fell safe. The pitcher tried for second. Johnston's throw got a few feet past Elberfeld and Kelly took third like a real base runner. Kelly's long fly to center scored him with the winning run.

The locals threatened in the ninth when a pass and a wild pitch put Elberfeld on second, but after two were out Harris was passed purposefully and Dale failed to Lee.

Thompson against Marshall in the ninth for Thursday.

Crackers:
Chattanooga, Tenn., May 26.—(Special.)—The home team took the lead in the first inning as McGowan, a new pitcher, made a tremendous drive to right-center, hitting Elberfeld for a first double. The liner off Kitchens' bat for a first double play and saved a rock of run. Williams stop ending the inning immediately after the double. The stop would have been impossible with the infield in.

The Crackers went ahead again in the sixth. Holland got a hit through the box. Johnston muffed Moran's fly close to the fence and Manning sacrificed.

Pellagra Cure Saves Her Life

Oakville, Tenn., Mrs. L. B. Babb of this place, writes: "Three months and a half ago when I wrote you I didn't think I would live to see Christmas again, but now it is Christmas and I am enjoying it fine. I cannot praise Pellagra Remedy enough. I believe I could eat most anything there is to eat now. My weight was 81 when I started your treatment. I now weigh 98 pounds, about my average weight for fifty years past. Baugh's Pellagra Remedy did what it claims to do if the patient will follow directions as I have done."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baugh.

The symptoms—hands red like sun-burn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red with much mucus and chocking, indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope, get Baugh's Big Free book on Pellagra and learn about the treatment. Col. B. B. Babb, Jr., also, remembering many is returned from where the remedy fails to cure. (adv.)

Pretty Open Air Pageant Given at Davis St. School

Although the sudden downpour that visited Atlanta Wednesday afternoon somewhat marred the open air pageant of the Davis street school, still it did not dampen the enthusiasm of the young people, and as soon as Mr. J. P. Pluvius let up an enjoyable program of drills and plays was presented.

Every grade had some sort of drill or play to present, and every one of them met with huge success. The plays, "Pocahontas" and "Captain John Smith," "Ughehorpe and the Land Grant" and "Cinderella" were three of the most delightful of the afternoon.

"Captain John Smith and Pocahontas" was presented by the children of the seventh A, and the acting of the entire cast was extremely good. O'Neill Stoner as Pocahontas, acted their parts very good.

Probably the biggest hit of the afternoon was a play by a demure little fourth grade girl, Evelyn Bournsmyre, in the title role of "Cinderella." The rest of the cast, also acted very well.

The comedy of the afternoon was presented by the eighth grade children who presented the play "The Country School," which was a hit, and drawing many laughs by their comical actions. A drill by the girls of this grade to music also was very good.

Prior to the parent-teacher conference meeting was held in the eighth grade of the school, several interesting speeches being made.

LABOR UNIONS DENOUNCED BY TAFT

Former President Says Union Leaders Exercise Power Dangerously to Society.

New York, May 26.—Former President William H. Taft, in an address delivered at the annual banquet of the National Association of Manufacturers, severely criticized the labor unions and the federal trade commission, which he believed was "a danger to the business interests of the country."

Professor Taft was co-speaker with Senator Warren G. Harding, of Ohio, who declared that the greatest danger to American progress is the professional handling of big enterprises.

"I fully approve," said the former president, "of the principle of labor unions. But the power they have acquired by the principle of combination has become excessive and dangerous to the public weal and the good of society."

He said that the labor unions have acquired by the principle of combination a power that has become excessive and dangerous to the public weal and the good of society.

Terry and Springer Named as Delegates To Typo Convention

H. E. Springer and Fred J. Terry were elected delegates Wednesday from the Atlanta Typographical union to the first annual convention of the International Typographical union at Los Angeles after a spirited race among several candidates.

Both Mr. Terry and Mr. Springer, who are connected with The Georgian, have been prominent among the typographical union officials in the district for many years.

The convention will be held in the city of the Georgia capital in 1916. Mr. Terry has been associated with the typographical union for twenty years, coming from Charlotte to Atlanta in 1895.

A feature of the 80th vote cast in the election Wednesday was that Atlanta stood unanimously against the Houston proposition which sought to tie the hands of the International Typographical union officials in the distribution of legitimate current expenses.

The convention will convene in Los Angeles, August 9, and continues in session six days. The delegates will number out from every section of the United States and Canada. Many unique features have been arranged for the entertainment of these delegates and the thousands of visitors who always attend.

At its conclusion the delegates will meet at San Diego for a series of entertainments, and will then proceed to the exposition at San Francisco. They will visit the military academy for aged and tubercular typographical union men at Colorado Springs.

SWANN MAY RECOVER. Passes Comfortable Day Following Successful Operation.

Griffin, Ga., May 26.—(Special.)—W. H. Swann, the aged man who was shot down on the courthouse steps yesterday afternoon by Forest McKenney, has recovered from his injuries.

Both Mr. Terry and Mr. Springer, who are connected with The Georgian, have been prominent among the typographical union officials in the district for many years.

The convention will be held in the city of the Georgia capital in 1916. Mr. Terry has been associated with the typographical union for twenty years, coming from Charlotte to Atlanta in 1895.

A feature of the 80th vote cast in the election Wednesday was that Atlanta stood unanimously against the Houston proposition which sought to tie the hands of the International Typographical union officials in the distribution of legitimate current expenses.

The convention will convene in Los Angeles, August 9, and continues in session six days. The delegates will number out from every section of the United States and Canada. Many unique features have been arranged for the entertainment of these delegates and the thousands of visitors who always attend.

At its conclusion the delegates will meet at San Diego for a series of entertainments, and will then proceed to the exposition at San Francisco. They will visit the military academy for aged and tubercular typographical union men at Colorado Springs.
